BRIDGING GENERATIONS TEENS & SENIORS IN ART

These art projects were created by our intergenerational program art program. High school students and seniors were brought together and designed a community art project that was inspired by Vallejo. Each project celebrates shared stories, understanding, and the power of connection across generations.

Bridging generations, building connections!

Vallejo is Where the Heart Is: This group had a mix of artistically talented individuals and a few seniors who were very uncomfortable.

The seniors slowly came out of their shells, at first only providing guidance and ideas then slowly actually putting paint to canvas. This art piece is a representation of what it is like to live in the beauty of Vallejo.

The Beauty of the Waterfront: This 3-D model of the waterfront was put together by a group that was inspired by the different events and activities that take place on the waterfront. One of the seniors in this group is blessed to have a view of the waterfront from their window.

Christmas Around the World: This group wanted to represent all of the different cultures that exist in Vallejo by showing the different ways people celebrate Christmas--with a giant Christmas Tree! Just within their group they have immigrants from Germany, the Philippines, and Mexico. Check out all the details to see if your culture is somewhere in the piece.

Congrats!

Annual Citywide Vallejo Open Studios (VOS) was brought to life in 2010 as a way to engage various art groups to participate in one all encompassing event.

A variety of open studios events had always taken place throughout Vallejo and continue to do so, however during the second weekend of November, artists throughout Vallejo are encouraged to participate and either open their studios to the public or collaborate with other artists in a location of their choosing.
